Hitchcock Design Group, a leading provider of planning and landscape architecture services in the Midwest and Texas, proudly announces ranking 3rd in the Landscape Architecture Firm category of Zweig Group's 2017 Best Firms To Work For Awards!

On May 18th, Zweig Group released the prestigious 2017 Best Firms To Work For Awards; a national ranking honoring outstanding workplaces within the architecture, landscape architecture and engineering industries. Awarded firms were recognized for their ability to create outstanding workplace experiences through excellence in vision, career-development, project opportunities, teamwork, compensation, communication and culture.

"We are extremely proud to receive this honor, and are humbled by its alignment with Hitchcock's corporate vision, which includes pushing ourselves to consistently grow all aspects of our firm, and to develop engaging careers for our motivated professionals," says Bill Inman, Senior Vice President.

Zweig Group evaluated firms on a combination score of comprehensive employee surveys and performance metrics, and then ranked the firms by category. Hitchcock Design Group's staff was amongst over 11,000 employees across the nation who participated!

"We had some really great applicants this year. We were very impressed with the firms who made this list and saw an overall improvement in scores compared with last year," said Christina Zweig, marketing director, Zweig Group.
